26900501

MAHATMA GANDHI UNIVERSITY, KOTTAYAM

MGU-UGP (Honours)/ MGU-BBA (Honours)/ MGU-BCA (Honours) Regular Exam October 2026
Fifth Semester -Discipline Specific Core Course (DSC) - MG5DSCSWK300 Administration Of Service Organizations (2024 Admission Onwards)

Duration: 2 hours Maximum Marks: 70

.

Part A -Very Short Answer -Answer all questions- Each question carries 1 marks

1. Categorize the primary roles of an international NGO in global development Primary roles of an international NGO: Advocacy, humanitarian assistance, development, and human rights protection.	[An] / [CO1] 1 marks
2. Name the administrative activity concerned with analyzing expenditure records Administrative activity concerned with analyzing expenditure records: Financial auditing.	[An] / [CO1 1 marks
3. State one importance of leadership in social welfare administration Importance of leadership in social welfare administration: It motivates staff to achieve organizational goals.	[K] / [CO1] 1 marks
4. Use the planning process to identify one objective of a service organization To provide accessible and effective services to the target population.	[A] / [CO4] 1 marks
5. What is NITI Aayog? NITI Aayog (National Institution for Transforming India) is the Government of India's policy think tank.	[K] / [CO1] 1 marks
6. Correlate the functioning of local NGOs with community participation Local NGOs encourage community participation by involving people in identifying needs and implementing programmes.	[An] / [CO1] 1 marks
7. Define Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR). CSR is the responsibility of businesses to contribute to social, environmental, and economic development.	[An] / [CO1] 1 marks
8. Explain the relevance of the Income Tax Act to voluntary organizations It provides provisions for tax exemptions to eligible charitable organizations, subject to applicable conditions.	[An] / [CO1] 1 marks
9. Define MSME. MSME stands for Micro, Small and Medium Enterprises.	[An] / [CO1] 1 marks
10. Show one purpose of performance appraisal. To evaluate employees' job performance and identify their training needs.	[A] / [CO4] 1 marks

Part B -Short Answer -Answer any 5 questions- Each question carries 3 marks

11. Outline the steps required to register an NGO under the NITI Aayog DARPAN portal. a) Create an account: Visit the official NITI Aayog NGO-DARPAN portal and register using the required organizational and authorized-person details. b) Submit information: Provide the NGO's registration details, PAN, address, governing body details, and other required documents. c) Complete verification: Submit the application and complete the prescribed verification process to obtain the NGO-DARPAN Unique ID.	[A] / [CO1] 3 marks
12. Compare the functions of an 'Umbrella' NGO and a 'Networking' NGO. a) Umbrella NGO: Provides guidance, coordination, capacity-building, and support to member organizations under a common structure. b) Networking NGO: Connects independent NGOs to share information, resources, experiences, and expertise. c) Key difference: An umbrella NGO generally provides a more structured support system, whereas a networking NGO primarily facilitates communication and collaboration.	[An] /[CO1] 3 marks
13. Explain the role of NGOs in addressing community needs. ✓ Identifying needs: NGOs assess community problems related to poverty, health, education, disability, and social exclusion. ✓ Providing services: They organize welfare programmes, awareness campaigns, counselling, training, and other development activities. ✓ Promoting participation: They empower local people, mobilize resources, and advocate for their rights and access to government services.	[U] / [CO1] 3 marks
14. Illustrate the role of the Memorandum of Association in a company. a) Defines objectives: The MOA specifies the main objectives and purposes for which the organization is established. b) Establishes legal identity and scope: It states essential details such as the organization's name, registered office state, and permitted activities.	[S] / [CO1] 3 marks

c) Guides operations: It defines the scope of the organization's activities and helps prevent actions beyond its stated objectives.
15. Differentiate between the functions of a state-level NGO and a national-level NGO. a) State-level NGO: Works mainly within one state, addressing local and regional issues such as health, education, and poverty. b) National-level NGO: Operates across multiple states and addresses wider issues through national programmes and advocacy. c) Area of influence: State-level NGOs focus on state-specific needs, while national-level NGOs often influence national policies and coordinate large-scale programmes.	[An] / CO1] 3 marks
16. Analyse the relevance of FCRA provisions to NGOs receiving foreign contributions a) Legal regulation: The Foreign Contribution (Regulation) Act, 2010 regulates the acceptance and use of foreign contributions by NGOs in India. b) Registration and permission: Eligible NGOs must obtain FCRA registration or prior permission before receiving foreign contributions, as applicable. c) Accountability: NGOs must follow prescribed banking, accounting, reporting, and annual-return requirements to ensure transparency and lawful use of funds	[An] /[CO1] 3 marks
17. Define social auditing and explain its objectives. a) Definition: Social auditing is a systematic process of assessing an organization's social performance, activities, and impact on the community. b) Transparency and accountability: It ensures that resources are used responsibly and that the organization is accountable to beneficiaries and stakeholders. c) Community participation and improvement: It involves stakeholders in evaluating programmes, identifying shortcomings, and improving service delivery	[A] / [CO5] 3 marks

Part C - Short Essay- Answer any 3 questions- Each question carries 5 marks

18. Describe the major steps involved in the registration process of a trust. a) Selection of trustees b) Preparation of trust deed:. c) Stamp duty. d) Registration:. e) Post-registration compliance:	[U] / [CO1] 5 marks
19. Apply Kotter and Schlesinger's strategies to manage resistance to change in a given HSO scenario 1. Education and communication: Explain the benefits of digital records, including improved documentation, coordination, and service delivery. 2. Participation and involvement: Involve social workers in selecting the system and developing implementation procedures. 3. Facilitation and support: Provide training, technical assistance, and adequate time for staff to adapt to the new system. 4. Negotiation and agreement: Address legitimate staff concerns, such as increased workload, by negotiating practical solutions. 5. Co-optation and coercion: Involve influential staff members in supporting the change when appropriate. Use explicit or implicit coercion only as a last resort, considering its potential effects on trust and morale.	[A] / [CO5] 5 marks
20. Evaluate the role of policy implementation frameworks in achieving welfare goals a) Clarifying objectives: Implementation frameworks translate welfare policies into specific goals, activities, and measurable outcomes. b) Resource allocation: They guide the allocation of funds, personnel, infrastructure, and other resources to priority needs. c) Coordination: They establish roles and responsibilities among government departments, NGOs, and community stakeholders. d) Monitoring and evaluation: They help measure progress, identify gaps, and assess whether welfare programmes achieve their intended outcomes. e) Accountability and improvement: They promote transparency, identify implementation barriers, and support corrective action to improve services for vulnerable populations.	[An] /[CO1] 5 marks
21. Judge the accountability of national-level NGOs to their beneficiaries versus their donors a) Accountability to beneficiaries: NGOs must respond to community needs, protect beneficiaries' rights, provide accessible services, and encourage participation in decision-making. b) Accountability to donors: They must use funds according to agreed purposes, maintain accurate financial records, and submit reports on activities and expenditure. c) Potential conflict: Donor priorities may differ from local needs, creating tension between funding requirements and community expectations. d) Balancing accountability: NGOs should involve beneficiaries in programme planning while meeting legitimate donor reporting and financial requirements.	[E] / [CO3] 5 marks

e) Evaluation: Accountability to both groups is essential; however, beneficiary interests, dignity, and rights should remain central to the NGO's mission, within applicable legal and ethical obligations.
22. Analyze the essential conditions for creating a valid trust a) Settlor: A person legally competent to create the trust must establish it. b) Clear intention: The settlor must demonstrate a definite intention to create a trust. c) Lawful purpose: The purpose of the trust must be legal and clearly identifiable. d) Trust property: There must be identifiable property or assets that form the subject matter of the trust. e) Beneficiaries and trustees: The beneficiaries must be identifiable or ascertainable, where required, and the trust must have a valid arrangement for holding and managing the property.	[An] / [CO1] 5 marks

Part D - Essay - Answer any 2 questions - Each question carries 15 marks

23. Discuss the framework of Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR) under Section 135 of the Companies Act 2013 and its impact on corporate-NGO funding partnerships ➢ Corporate Social Responsibility refers to the contribution of businesses to social welfare, environmental protection, and sustainable development. ➢ Section 135 of the Companies Act, 2013, along with the Companies (CSR Policy) Rules, 2014, as amended, governs CSR in India. ➢ CSR provisions apply to companies meeting -net worth of ₹500 crore, turnover of ₹1,000 crore, or net profit of ₹5 crore. ➢ Eligible companies must spend at least 2% of their average net profits during the three immediately preceding financial years, subject to statutory provisions. ➢ CSR Committee recommends CSR policy, activities, and expenditure to the Board. ➢ The Board approves the CSR policy, oversees implementation, and ensures compliances. ➢ Schedule VII activities include poverty eradication, healthcare, education, gender equality, environmental sustainability, rural development, and disaster management. ➢ NGOs identify community needs, prepare projects, mobilize resources, and implement eligible CSR programmes. ➢ NGOs must meet applicable legal requirements, which may include prescribed registration, tax-related conditions, and relevant experience. ➢ Eligible implementing agencies y must register through Form CSR-1 with the Ministry of Corporate Affairs, subject to applicable rules. ➢ CSR partnerships provide funding for education, healthcare, livelihood development, disability rehabilitation, and community welfare. ➢ Corporate partners provide technical expertise, management support, technology, and professional training to NGOs. ➢ Financial reporting, documentation, monitoring, and impact assessment strengthen use of funds. ➢ Challenges: Donor-driven priorities, competition for funding, short-term projects, and administrative burdens can affect NGO autonomy and sustainability.	A] / [CO1] 15 marks
24. Discuss how Social Welfare Administration helps in translating social welfare policies into programmes and services. ➢ Social Welfare Administration is the process of planning, organizing, staffing, directing, coordinating, budgeting, and evaluating welfare programmes. ➢ It converts government policies and social welfare objectives into practical programmes and services. ➢ Needs assessment: identifies community problems, vulnerable populations, and priority areas. ➢ Planning: establishes objectives, activities, timelines, and measurable outcomes for welfare programmes. ➢ Establishes administrative structures, allocates responsibilities, and defines reporting relationships. ➢ It recruits, trains, supervises, and develops qualified personnel ➢ It motivates staff, guides implementation, and ensures that organizational activities follow established objectives. ➢ It promotes cooperation - government departments, NGOs, local bodies, and community organizations. ➢ Budgeting: It estimates costs, allocates resources, expenditure, and promotes the efficient use of funds. ➢ Service delivery: It facilitates the delivery of pensions, child protection, healthcare, disability services, counselling, and elderly care. ➢ Community participation: It involves beneficiaries in identifying needs, planning interventions, and assessing programme performance. ➢ Monitoring: It tracks progress, service coverage, expenditure, and compliance with programme. ➢ Evaluation: It assesses programme effectiveness, efficiency, relevance, and impact ➢ Challenges and improvement: It addresses resource shortages, administrative delays, poor coordination, and exclusion through training, transparency, digital support, and grievance-redressal mechanisms.	[E] / [CO6] 15 marks
25. Evaluate the effectiveness of the societies Registration Act in regulating registered societies ➢ Meaning: The Societies Registration Act, 1860, provides a legal framework for registering societies formed for specified charitable, educational, scientific, literary, and other eligible purposes, subject to applicable law. ➢ 2. Legal recognition: Registration provides a formal legal framework for the society to operate	[E] / [CO1] 15 marks

according to its governing documents. ➢ 3. Formation: Individuals establish a society for a lawful purpose and comply with the applicable registration requirements. ➢ 4. Memorandum of Association: The memorandum specifies the society's name, objectives, governing body, and other prescribed particulars. ➢ Rules and regulations: These establish procedures for membership, meetings, elections, decision-making, and administration. ➢ Governing body: Office-bearers and governing-body members manage the organization according to its rules and applicable legislation. ➢ Registration procedure: The founders submit the prescribed application, documents, and fees to the appropriate Registrar for verification. ➢ Financial accountability: Applicable legal requirements and internal governance rules support responsible financial management and documentation. ➢ Annual returns and reporting: Where required by the applicable law, societies submit governing-body information, accounts, or other prescribed records. ➢ Organizational continuity: Formal governance structures help maintain activities despite changes in leadership or membership. ➢ Public confidence: Proper registration and transparent governance can increase confidence among beneficiaries, donors, and partner organizations. ➢ Support for social development: Registered societies contribute to education, healthcare, poverty alleviation, community development, and other welfare activities. ➢ Limitations: Weak monitoring, governance disputes, inadequate records, and uneven enforcement may reduce regulatory effectiveness. ➢ Suggestions for improvement: Simplified procedures, proportionate financial oversight, transparent reporting, democratic governance, and staff training can improve compliance.
26. Design a training module for staff of a human service organisation on managing organizational change effectively. ➢ Title: Managing Organizational Change Effectively in Human Service Organisations. ➢ Target group: Social workers, counsellors, administrators, supervisors, programme coordinators, and other HSO staff. ➢ Duration: One day, comprising six hours of training, excluding breaks. ➢ General objective: To develop staff knowledge, attitudes, and skills for understanding, implementing, and sustaining organizational change. ➢ Specific objectives: Enable participants to explain organizational change, identify resistance, communicate effectively, solve problems, and prepare an action plan. ➢ Introduction and needs assessment: Conduct a pre-training assessment and invite staff to share their experiences and concerns about organizational change. ➢ Understanding organizational change: Explain its meaning, types, causes, and stages, using examples such as introducing digital case records in a hospital. ➢ Identifying resistance: Discuss fear of the unknown, lack of skills, job-security concerns, increased workload, and lack of trust in management. ➢ Kotter and Schlesinger's strategies: Explain education and communication, participation and involvement, facilitation and support, negotiation and agreement, co-optation, and explicit or implicit coercion. ➢ Communication and leadership: Develop active listening, empathetic communication, conflict resolution, feedback, and participatory leadership skills. ➢ Training methods: Use lectures, group discussions, brainstorming, case studies, role-play, and collaborative exercises. ➢ Practical case study: Ask participants to develop strategies for introducing a new electronic case-management system when staff members resist the change. ➢ Action planning: Each group prepares an implementation plan specifying objectives, responsibilities, timelines, resources, staff support, and monitoring indicators. ➢ Evaluation: Use pre-tests and post-tests, role-play observations, participant feedback, and follow-up assessment after one to three months. ➢ Expected outcomes and conclusion: Improved staff confidence, reduced avoidable resistance, better teamwork, effective implementation, and improved quality of services for beneficiaries.	[S] / [CO2] 15 marks