Chapter 1

The Document

1.1 Dividing the document

See the following

1.1.1 Example

In this example, we show how subsections and subsubsections are produced (there are no subsubsubsections). Note how the subsections are numbered. Subexample

Did you note that subsubsections are not numbered? This is so in the book and report classes.

In the article class they too have numbers. (Can you figure out why?)

Note 1 Note Paragraphs and subparagraphs do not have numbers. And they have run-in headings. Though named "paragraph" we can have several paragraphs of text within this.

Subnote 1 Subparagraphs have an additional indentation too. And they can also contain more than one paragraph of text

18. Explain the methods to get Bibliography and Citation in LaTeX [S]/[CO4]
